

BECOMING A SUCCESSFUL, SAGE BUSINESSWOMAN CLASS FIVE

This is Sage Business Woman's Mentoring Program and today we are going to be talking about money and finances and how to shift and determine what is needed to attract your rightful abundance. Also to look at what that term really means. So we've got really good stuff coming up today. Lots more people are joining, which is great. I'm going to go ahead and make sure I have a sacred space. As you come on the call, go ahead and ground. We are good to go.

Today, I thought it was time to really look at financial abundance. I thought it would be good to help pave the way for your launches to really see what is needed to help you in your ability to attract more money and abundance of all kinds. Sometimes we think money is the answer to what's needed and so many things are related. Relationship to self and relationship to Source and relationship to abundance have some things in common. I want you to really be with that.

I was given an affirmation some time ago, which is, "I love me. I love God. I love money. We are one." There is the concept that you are Source by Source. Let that be the God of your understanding, whether it's the universe or Buddha or Jesus or nature, or whoever you refer to something that is larger than you. We're all connected to that which is. When you think about relationship to your self, love for your self, love for the Divine; the Divine in you, the Divine in others, the Divine in nature, the Divine in everything. When you say the Divine is everything, money is one of those things. We say money is an energy exchange, is a higher way of thinking about it. As you be with your relationships, which relationship needs the most mending? You can go many places with this. From Source perspective, we would say be in a place of openness to what comes up. You can make note.

I'm bringing up the question, "Can it be relationship to our parts or to parts of us that are in another time and space or their relationship to Source?" Those are things that came up for me. That's why I say, "Be open". Because allow the concept to be expansive. Whatever comes up for you is Divine. To understand that relationship with prosperity is an ever-evolving, perhaps even ever-mending relationship with, you might call it more layers or more tentacles that need healing. If you look at it in terms of relationship, you can see that. Let's just see if might be your relationship with the Divine. Then if you heal your relationship with Divine, and that is akin to some way to healing your relationship with your abundance, including money, then money is a much more spiritual concept than you had thought on whatever level.

When we talk about trust and trusting that you will have money, you also can look at wealth of trust needs mending. If money is from Source, then trusting in whatever you feel is Source. Again, you can see that connection. You may think, "Well where my mind goes is to starving children in Africa." You may say, "Well is it in their heritage line not to trust that they will be taken care of?" Very possibly. You can look at that and see why. When we put it on heritage line, what happens we are not taking responsibility. I inherited this; I can't do anything about it. What we want to do today is empower you, see that there is much that you can do.

I ask that you come from that place today of looking at, "How can I be more empowered around raising my financial IQ, my financial wealth, ability, ease in which I attract it and draw it to me in ways that feel good?" Choose to own your power. While we do a lot of work behind the scenes, this class is on purpose because it sometimes helps to bring things to your consciousness. Note what has come up for you and bless it. Blessings are Divine energy. When you bless from a positive, heartfelt place, shifts happen.

I felt blessings coming to me and I'm sending blessings to each of you in this class. What happens is blessings come back to us in some way, shape or form. We don't direct them, just know that they happen. You can assume that they happen Divinely. Blessing your gifts, yourself, your relationships, the earth, the sun, the moon, are good things to do. They bring blessings back to you. You can have that be something you do for yourself and for others. The good news is, you're doing for others, you're doing for the world, and you also get benefit from it in some way, shape or form. That is one thing you can do whenever you want, making it twice-daily practice is one idea. Even mark it on your calendar.

Let's look at wealth. The word wealth made subconsciously or consciously triggers something. Notice what it triggers or what comes up. It can be positive or negative or somewhere in between, or all of the above. Now bless what came up. As we notice, perhaps just empowering thoughts of release of relationship, and bless them, you are taking an empowered step. It is much different than noticing something and going, "Oh shoot. There is more." Right? You can feel the energy of, "Oh shoot. There is more" versus "There it is. I shall bless it."

I want to talk about the power of prayer in a moment. Again, not in a religious way so this is regardless of what your religious beliefs are or aren't. I want to stay with wealth for a second and say that it would be good to come up with an empowered phrase about wealth, so just be for a moment. Think about wealth. I'm going to use the word "woman" because it's all women in this class. Women empowered at loving, trusting. The last word is heaven. Women empowered at loving, trusting, heaven. We could say heaven on earth. Those are the words that came up. From Source perspective, you could choose others that are empowering. I'm looking at it now. Women who are empowered at attracting love, time, health. You can see where you can go if you choose to look at the word differently. I just put trillions in the "t's" so I got a money piece in there. Women empowered at attracting love and trillions of I'm not sure what the "h" is for me. Trillions and honoring it. Women empowered in attracting love and trillions of dollars and honoring it. How's that one? And honoring ourselves. Trillions is just what came up because it worked with the "t." But again, you can create your own acronym for wealth that feels good for you.

As I look at the field of those who are live here today around wealth, I see a lot of stuff that is, we would say anti-wealth. If you would like to allow that is ready to go, to go, give that now to your angels and allow them to transform it into something Divine. Allow what is ready to go, to go. Now this is something you can make a daily practice. And you may want to. It will help. Because when we let go of what's ready to go, it works. And it works gently and Divinely.

I also want to talk about Chakras today, as they relate to money and business. Each of you has some sort of goal for this program, which you may still be going towards or it may have changed or you may be reassessing. Where ever you are is Divine. The Chakras, if you look at your base Chakras, which are about security and safety, and you transfer that concept to financial well-being, and look at how secure you are in knowing that you can always provide or will be provided for, that you can always provide for yourself or will be provided for. Give that a number on a scale from 1 to 10.

Now if you move up to your solar area, this is often connected with fear. I think about fear of not having enough. I think about it in terms of fear that you won't be able to pay your bills or whatever else comes up around fear and money and financial support. And as you do that, your angels are there receiving that which is coming from your Chakras as it comes up. We bless them and thank them. And so it is. When we bless the Divine, it in some way Sources them and us. And it feels good to do so.

Now as we continue, I want to go to your highest Chakra, and when we say highest Chakra in this term, we are talking about eight. There are more, but let's go to number eight, which is above your crown, about six feet up or so. That is related to your ability to receive from the Divine and you may think many things about receiving from Divine. You may think about receiving intuitive information. In this case, we're talking about receiving whatever you need. So notice what comes up about that. As you be with receiving from the Divine, notice what's there and allow the angels to take what is ready to go and transform it.

Now we're going to bless your Chakras. There is more related to money and Chakras but that is all that is in your highest and best to do at this time.

I wanted to talk about prayer. You may want to take out a pen and paper if you don't already have one or your computer. This will be on the recording, but you may want to have it separate. Write down:

Wealth Prayer

I am wealthy, wise and wondrous and am in awe of my ability to receive all that I desire and need from the Divine.

I give thanks for all that is in my possession and all that I am attracting to me.

I am given opportunities to shine my light and to receive energy in return.

I blessed myself, the Divine, and all that is.

I know all is in alignment for my rightful abundance at this time.

I let go and let God.

I choose to trust that all is happening for me in ways that are beyond my knowing and for my highest good.

I let go and surrender. I am at peace.

I know I am abundant in all ways and I allow the material manifestation of wealth because I do.

And so it is.

I'm going to check in and see if there are any questions. Hit *2 if you have any question about any line from that.

It is now written on a piece of paper for you. Now here is a suggestion on what to do with this Wealth Prayer. First of all, the energy of it is being given to you in your self, and they are receiving. They receive at whatever level they receive, which is Divine. And so it is.

Now, the Wealth Prayer was done after our Chakras and the order was Divine for receiving at new levels than you would have before. This prayer is being energized Divinely for you in its written form wherever you wrote it or typed it. There are a number of ways that you could use this prayer. You can choose to read it daily, which is a good way. We will call that Way #1 is to read it daily. It is recommended. Number 2, you can make a copy of it and take it and put it in your work area and that could be next to your computer, on a wall in your office space, or both. We would say it really does depend on your setting as to what is best for you to do what feels right.

The question has come up, if a piece of art in your space can be energized with this prayer, or is it better to have the words of the prayer by itself. From Source perspective, the words are the better way for this. Words are energy. At this point in time, we are not going to energize your art, so we're going to suggest that you put the words up.

The third place you can put this prayer is in the heart of your home, which is typically, from Source perspective we would say the southeast side of your eating area. If you don't know where that is, a compass will help. That the place that is recommended. And so it is.

I want to talk about prayer and its healing ability. Prayer has been given to your energy field and it is energized so that when you read it, you allow in what you are ready to allow in, Divinely. In energizing something such as this seems to help more than just reading it we would say by about 10-20% on average. And then, by reading it daily and putting it up in your home and office space, you are receiving it Divinely as you are ready.

We have given you a number of things today. Blessing, you can bless this prayer each time you read it. We've looked at relationships and that is an ongoing process. You can choose to listen to the recording of this class weekly, if you want. It would be a good thing. Those Chakras will continue to heal that way rather than you trying to remember exactly what to do. Remember this class will be transcribed as well, so you will get the transcription and that will help also.

Okay, that's all we have for today, and I want to mention that additionally, part of this program has been told to you we would work on resetting your patterns. We want to talk about that. Work is being done and it is subtle. For some of you there is shift happening and for some of you, you may not feel it or sense it.

Patterning is important. At one point we said to someone that their pattern was so deep that she might want to create her own. What we meant by that is, don't let yourself have to wait for that, but rather move forward in ways that feel good to you. We create our own patterns all the time without realizing it. And sometimes I think, "What on earth have I created?" Or, "How did I create this mess?" Again, if you recall that 99% of our thoughts and beliefs are subconscious, there is a lot at work. Bless this rather than making it wrong or making yourself wrong.

The work that we did today is complimentary to re-patterning. The Chakra work, what we would like to do is work with you on other Chakras in the next class, because it helps to talk about it rather than us just healing behind the scenes. It helps to bring it up, it loosens things up. So, I think we may want to do that next week rather than wait for next month. No, next week is supposed to be a coaching session.

I want to open up and get your thoughts on that. How would you feel about me doing that next week instead of coaching?

Various: Yes. That's good for me. We are in the flow of it; we need to keep it going. The energy is there.

Stacey: That was my thought, too.

We'll do that. And then we'll coach the following week about it. If there is time next week, we'll do coaching with it. But we'll just go with the flow. That way you will have the recordings of it and for more of your Chakras and we'll follow the flow of what feels right each time.

Now I want to open up for questions or comments, take-aways. Press *2 to share something you are going to take-away or learned or thoughts about today.

Stacey: Connie?

Connie: When you check in with the higher Chakra, I really became aware of it. I have something there that is in the way of me really, truly receiving. And that's good for me to know. I can see that.

Stacey: Good – so it made you aware of something you weren't aware of before and now that is being blessed and work is being done in that area. That's good.

Connie: Thanks!

Stacey: Joie?

Joie: I have a client that contacted me yesterday and asked if we could do some work together, regressions, hypnosis, regression, and she said I must have taken a vow of poverty at some time because whatever I do, it turns out that I don't make the money. That resonated with me, so she's coming on Thursday. And this all just ties in when you started talking about finances and going through all of this changing patterns; it all pulls together. So thank you, very much for the prayer, number one.

Stacey: You're welcome. I just want to check in and see if there is anything to say about vow of poverty. Yes, we can. And what we would say is that vows of poverty have sometimes been made in our evolution and if resonates with you, then it likely is so. Don't let it alarm you. Bless it. From Source perspective, one way to disavow a vow of poverty is to give it to God. It's possible that everyone at some time has had such a vow, or not. We are not sure. But it is more common than you might think.

The question that comes up is: will all parts from all times and space let go of it and give it to God? We say bless all of those parts, in all times and space that may or may not be ready to let go. And so it is. And we bless Joie for bringing this up. The thought came that wealth could be an entire year-long, two-year-long program. That's how much there can be and bless that thought because knowing that as we transform what is ready to transform in the now, things can open up. And as we transform what is ready to transform next week, things can open up. Z

As we look at this one piece that came up about vow of poverty, we see the energy of it for many disseminating. And we bless all of you and see the God in you. This will continue for however long it needs to and trust that this was a gift to uncover that many did not know where there. From Source perspective, probably 98% of the humans on earth have had a vow of poverty at some time. Allow that work to unfold, Divinely. We will check in next week to see what is Divine to happen at that time.

Next week we are on for 2:00pm Eastern Time on September 18th. Hope to see all of you there. If not, of course it will be recorded. I just want to check in. I see Joie and Connie hands up and I think that's from before. I want to double-check. Joie did you have any other comment to make?

Joie: No, thank you very much. That was from before.

Stacey: Okay. Well, thank you so much for your contribution. It was Divine.

Joie: You're very welcome. I'm glad it came through.

Stacey: I'm glad, too! All right, I'm sending all of you love and blessings and I'm going to put it on interactive for a big Woo Hoo! One, two three...

All: Woo Hoo!

Stacey: And let us not forget, Woo Hooing and doing things to raise your energy does propel things of higher energy like wealth. So Woo Hooing is always good to do when it feels good. I will talk to you all next week. Bye!
